

Prof. Dietmar Heimes

Enhancement of the cell activity with Bioresonance according to Paul Schmidt – Basic and scientific results

Prof. Heimes will start his lecture with the development, the history and the basis for the Bioresonance according to Paul Schmidt®. More than 20 years ago he started as a student on the RWTH Aachen the development of the first high med bioresonance system.

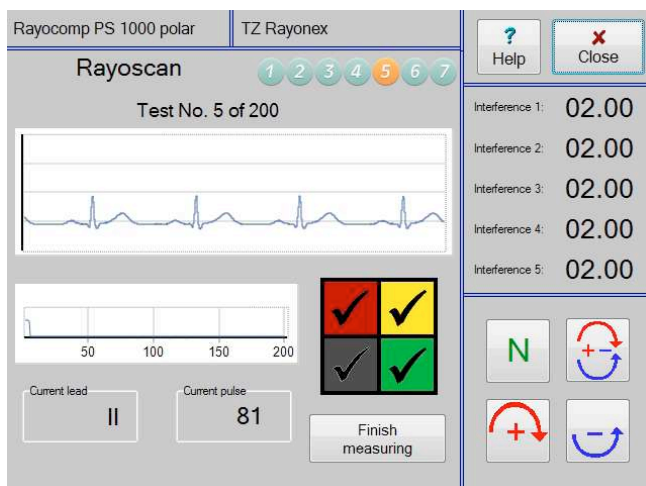

He will present and explain in the beginning the relationship between frequencies, polarity and resonance regarding the biological window of the human body based on his book. On an example he will show, that there is also a great influence using the right materials in the field of bioresonance.

After leaving the basics, Prof. Heimes will work out with which methods he and his team developed the huge number of existing frequencies and the relationships to the human body and the body of animals also. Based on these information he will present the scientific results which show that the cellular system, especially the cell activity, can be boost significantly by the Bioresonance according to Paul Schmidt®.

Further cell biological analysis showed how strong the regeneration and healing depends on the cell activity. During the lecture, a time-lapse video will show how the wound healing is pushed on by the influence of the Bioresonance according to Paul Schmidt®.

He will show in a few charts that with an ECG-system, which is integrated in the bioresonance devices according to Paul Schmidt, an automatic scan of relevant resonance frequencies is possible.

In the last part of his lecture Prof. Heimes will show the strange possibilities of Bioresonance according to Paul Schmidt® regarding an optimal development of food supplements. In an explanation of three different preparations in the field of deacidification and detoxification he will show how to come over to an energetic optimized preparation for well-being with several surprises – including new blood und urine analysis of the latest developments in the field of detoxification.

CURRICULUM VITAE DEL PROF. DIETMAR HEIMES

Professional career after his school years, Dietmar Heimes studied mechanical engineering at RWTH Aachen University. In 1994 he finished his diploma on rapid phototyping with the Braun company in Frankfurt-Kronberg, scoring a total result of 1.0. While being a student he and his fellow students already developed the first high-med bioresonance system for Rayonex Schwingungstechnik GmbH, a very small company at that time.

On the 1st of September 1994 Dietmar Heimes started his professional career with Rayonex. Based on the ideas of Paul Schmidt, the founder of Rayonex, who died on the 2nd of September 1994, Dietmar Heimes advanced the idea of the cause oriented therapy approach, which developed into today's systems.

In 1998 Dietmar Heimes took over the management of the company. In addition to the development of suitable high-med devices, the development of the corporate philosophy always took pride of place. For example, many different studies were made and solutions developed in the field of electrosmog (electromagnetic radiation) and then integrated in the causeoriented therapeutic approach of the company.

Based on this know-how, the Sauerland Pyramids, the new corporate offices of Rayonex-Schwingungstechnik GmbH, were built in 2005. In the buildings, possible stress due to electrosmog, allergens, etc. were reduced and revolutionary environmental concepts were established. In 2008 Rayonex received the European KNX Award for these concepts from a pool of 5136 candidates.

Today, Rayonex is the market leader in the area of the cause-oriented bioresonance therapy approach and produces class I and class IIa medical devices and solutions for the global market in this sector. Over the last 27 years Rayonex has grown into an international company, with ever-growing international contacts and very active collaborations in 37 countries.

As the leading company in Germany in this field, the Paul Schmidt Academy under Dietmar Heimes' leadership trains therapists and healthy living space consultants to be the leading professionals in the field of bioresonance therapy and radiation measurement and solutions.

All measuring devices used by the company have been tested thoroughly by the professional Rayonex team. This team continues to develop and test new devices and solutions for the protection from electromagnetic pollution, and only effective devices which were thoroughly tested and proven in practice are being recommended.

In November 2013 Dietmar Heimes received a professorship from the Russian University of Medical and Social Rehabilitation in Moscow. Professor Heimes is an international lecturer and author, too. His latest 548 pages long book on Bioresonance According to Paul Schmidt was published on the 1st of December 2015
